

Individual Report Week 9

Josh Baker Team One 20/9 - 27/9

This week was very busy as we had to present our application in our week 8 milestone report. In preparation for this, i worked on tidying up the JSP's code, (taking out some of the unnecessary code and changing div classes to work with the right css elements). I also implemented a number of user interface changes directly related to the issues put up on trello. I also created an about page for the site, to explain the use of the site and why it was created. Aside from all of this, i decided that we needed to make our blocks more intuitive so i helped the team brainstorm some ideas for block name changes.
