

Individual Report Week 11

Josh Baker Team One 4/10 - 10/10

This week i continued my work on the user interface helping Ashraf with the various issues with scalability, heights of elements and the overall colour scheme of the pages. We implemented the navigation bar in angularJS for simplicity of the page and to make it consistent across all pages. I continued to tidy up the code on the JSPs removing unnecessary containers, divs and sections of unused code. This in turn helped clean up the css files which were ever growing. I spoke with colour experts (Giovanni Moretti) and user interface designers (Rachel Blagojevic) to get feedback on the colour scheme used and the readability of the pages. The feedback given and the changes suggested were then implemented.
